
Wed 02 Sep, morning

Four product documents are published

What each one covers and who to send it to.

Hi all,

We have published four product documents at technoempower.com/documents.html (<https://technoempower.com/documents.html>). They answer the questions teams ask us first, and each one opens in a browser like a normal web page.

Use them when someone asks you something you cannot fully answer. Send the whole page, or just the one document that fits.

What each document covers

- Jira two-way sync. For teams who want to keep using Jira. It explains what moves between Jira and TechnoCenter, and who decides when the two do not match.

- Getting started. This is the Academy. It shows how someone new learns TechnoCenter by working through short practice tasks, in an environment that is already set up for them.
- Plans and pricing. For anyone asking what a plan includes. It covers what comes with every plan and what changes between them.
- Importing your test cases. For teams that already have a test library. It shows how they upload a file, check it and review it before anything is imported.

If someone keeps asking you something these documents do not answer, reply and tell us the question. That is the most useful thing you can send us this week.

TechnoCenter is built and run by STS · questions to support@technoempower.com
technoempower.com

